THE RICKI LAKE SHOW

FORT WORTH—

MTV is looking for north Texans to be on its new show. It's basically a reality show to help college students achieve their dreams.

"I've always wanted to be involved with MTV in some way. So, when I heard about it, I jumped at the chance," said Tim Dow, waiting to audition.

About two dozen Tarrant County College students showed up at the TCC South Campus to get a shot at a spot.

MTV producer Nathan Johnson is visiting each TCC campus, one per day, looking for a student with a dream. The idea behind the show is to help students get what they want to achieve.

"The main dream is to be an entrepreneur and a businessman," said Down.

Those at TCC South say the auditions came as a surprise.

"My cousin, she tweeted me this morning and was like 'MTV's gonna be at your school.' i was like, 'you're lying!'" said Symone Porche, waiting for her turn to audition.

"I definitely didn't expect them [MTV] to be on a campus, far less TCC," said Rachel Strange.

Johnson will be also conducting interviews at TCU and UNT next week. It's all in the hopes of finding some north Texans who need a jump-start on their career.

"The way I see it, if MTV made can help me get my foot in the door with their entrepreneur in business-ship, then it also opens the door for other opportunities such as acting, books, things like that that i want to do," said Dow.

MTV picked north Texas for its diversity, so many students have so many different stories to tell.

Now's their chance to tell it, alongside Beavis and Snooki.
